Our patented device, Stet Clean®, breaks down/eliminates the transmission of infections caused by the stethoscope, the most used medical device. Stet Clean® is a micro-electronic device equipped with UV-C LEDs able to disinfect/sterilize the stethoscope's membrane automatically. Stet Clean is lightweight, adaptable to all stethoscopes, efficient and effective, safe, cost saving, rechargeable.

At present, Stet Clean is a working prototype in a pre-industrial phase, which has proven efficiency and effectiveness in disinfection/sterilization of the stethoscope membrane.

Stet Clean can be used by any Health Professionals (Doctors & Nurses) and prevents hospital acquired infections disinfecting, automatically and without any required action, the stethoscope membrane. Health professionals, regrettably, tend to forget the disinfection of this device.

A partnership for the production of Stet Clean was signed with Light Progress, pioneer company in the use of UV-C techniques. Other contacts are in progress with medical devices companies and distributors. Stet Clean patent was filed on February in 2013 as PCT, research reports were extremely positive. In 2014 a second patent was submitted to expand/cover others characteristics of the device.
